“Klein Tools' newly redesigned Ironworker Toolbelt System offers innovation and customization like never before,” says Adriana Facchina, associate product manager at Klein Tools. “The patent-pending connecting bar holder locks and swivels on demand. Each holder features a tucked tunnel loop design to maximize comfort by positioning the holders higher on the body when stored on belts and harnesses. All products are proudly cut, sewn, riveted, and packaged here in the USA using thick full-grain leather, reinforced with heavy-duty rivets, ensuring quality craftsmanship and durability.”
