Klein Tools’® Rechargeable Auto-Off Headlamp Provides All-Day Illumination

Aug. 13, 2018 (Lincolnshire, Ill.) – Klein Tools (www.kleintools.com), for professionals since 1857, introduces the Rechargeable Auto-Off Headlamp, which provides all day illumination with smart, battery-efficient technology. Its light sensor detects when the unit is in bright light, automatically turning the headlamp off to save battery. Additional features include a bracketed strap to easily remove the light for recharging and a silicone strap to secure the headlamp on a hardhat for added convenience.

Rechargeable Auto-Off Headlamp (Cat. No. 56034)

- After three minutes in well-lit areas, auto-sensing technology turns headlamp off to save battery (feature can be disabled when needed)
- Strap bracket enables removal of just the headlamp, making recharging easier
- Battery gauge clearly indicates remaining battery life with colored LED lights (see battery gauge chart below)
- Slim profile with pivoting mount allows up to a 64 degree lighting angle to provide versatile lighting solutions
- Silicone strap secures headlamp on hardhat for convenience
- Rechargeable via micro-USB port (cable included)
- Drop-test rating of up to 10 feet and dust- and water-resistance ensure durability and reliability
- Spot Light: 200 Lumens and 12-hour runtime; Flood Light: 100 Lumens and 22-hour runtime

Battery Gauge
All 4 lights lit: (2) green, yellow, red	75-100% charged
3 lights lit: green, yellow, red	50-74% charged
2 lights lit: yellow, red	25-49% charged
1 light lit: red	15-24% charged
Red light is blinking; lamp light flashes 5 times	Less than 15% charged

“Battery life is key with Klein’s new Rechargeable Auto-Off Headlamp,” says Laura Ranieri, senior product manager at Klein Tools. “Features such as an LED battery gauge and its easy recharging capabilities begin to indicate just how smart battery-efficient technology has become. This headlamp’s auto-sensing technology turns off the unit after three minutes in bright light, saving battery... and a little embarrassment.”
