Klein Tools® Launches Bucket Work Center Rail System, Vertical and Horizontal Modular System

Jan. 18, 2023 (Lincolnshire, Ill.) – Klein Tools (www.kleintools.com), for professionals since 1857, introduces the Bucket Work Center Rail System, with new wall assembly units available in three sizes and with a number of modules allowing you to easily customize “the lineman’s office.”

Wall Assembly, Rail System

- Easily attaches to utility buckets with quick release and adjustable clamps
- Multiple rails allow horizontal and vertical customization of module positioning
- 50 lb. load rating for each rail
- Special design bumpers allow Rail System to stay in place during transit and articulation of aerial buckets

“Klein’s Bucket Work Center Rail System is the first of its kind, the only aerial bucket solution that lets you customize how you store your tools in ‘The Lineman’s Office,’” says Pierre Perez, associate director of product management at Klein Tools. “When designing the Bucket Work Center Rail System, our goal was to build a system that gave linemen durable tool storage and organization solutions for their bucket that were practical and strong enough to hold all the tools that they use daily. The Rail System easily attaches to aerial buckets with a standard 2" or 3" bucket lip, making the system easy to use and transport. On top of that, all the modules are made with impact resistant nylon to stand up to tough working conditions."
